Overview

Peter is a full-time commercial mediator who has settled private, civil, commercial and workplace disputes from points of principle to sums involving millions. He is CEDR accredited, a member of the CEDR UK Panel and a CMC registered mediator. Since 2017 Peter has mediated a broad range of commercial disputes reflecting his broad experience as a CEO, MD and Commercial Director in corporate SMB business.

Peter has an energy and style that is focussed on ensuring parties are listened to and ultimately work towards reaching an agreement. He understands the landscape, pitfalls and consequences of parties proceeding to expensive, time consuming and impersonal litigation.

He has a natural intuitive ability to understand the key issues, the position of each party and why they are positioned where they are. He possesses an excellent commercial sense of what is required to reach a settlement. He will carefully challenge parties to ensure their 'positions' are reality checked and enables honest risk assessments as opposed to over-confident positioning. He encourages both parties not to agree, but to look at the position from the other side.

This experience has been gained following a varied international career working as a General Manager and Commercial Director for large international internet betting organisations and building his own private client and branded live event stadia betting business. All roles required leadership, commercial acumen along with communication and diplomacy skills for both work and external clients.

Peter is a true Commercial Mediator and has a high Settlement Agreement rate supported by a number of positive testimonials from mediation parties and their legal representatives. He is comfortable working with litigation in person for private clients, legal representation and Kings Counsel.

Professional Background

Peter has a successful commercial business background spanning over 30 years working at Commercial Director, General Manager and MD level at both start up and established level. Managing revenues up to $250m. He has an excellent record in building board level, executive level, and operational level relationships and has managed small to large teams. He understands the strategic and day to day operational challenges that businesses and their owners experience.

Personal Style

Peter has a unique style that's lends itself to managing various mixes of personalities and characters including 'difficult' and 'eccentric' individuals. Ranging from private company owners, corporate CEO's, corporate chairpersons to individuals in the media spotlight through to multi layers of management in corporate and private companies.

Outstanding mediation and interpersonal skills shown when carefully listening to all parties involved in a dispute to understand underlying issues.

Thorough pre-mediation preparation. Speaks to all parties, builds a rapport on the day with the parties and focuses on key issues, securing a level of cooperation from the outset.

Proactive communication abilities proven during regular professional dealings with high net worth, high profile, and multi-cultural people. Equally comfortable when interfacing directly with the CEO of a major corporation or with a challenging entrepreneur.

A strong negotiator who maintains optimal standards and strives for excellence, providing outcomes that are mutually beneficial.
